"MADE IN MONESSEN" EVERY DAY

VOLUME THIRTEEN, NUMBER 252 — MONESSEN, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1915 — DELIVERED FOR SIX CENTS THE WEEK

FIRST ARREST WAS MADE UNDER NEW TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

The first arrest under the new traffic ordinance was made last night about 5 p. m., when Officer Fred Menefee lodged complaint against Alex Korsaeton of Charleroi, with fast and reckless driving. The officer commanded the driver to stop, but he refused, but was later found at the Donovan hotel and arrested. He refused to drive to the police station with the policeman and when he finally landed there, he became disorderly and it took several officers to handle him. This morning at the hearing four witnesses testified that the man was driving his car through Donner avenue at from twenty to thirty miles an hour, but Korsaelon denied that he was going at a rate higher than twelve or fifteen miles.

The burgess read the section of the ordinance under which the information was made and then placed the minimum fine which is $10 00 and costs. The costs amounted to $4.00 He paid the fine. The burges then read a disorderly conduct charge to him and asked "guilty or not guilty." Korsaelon pled guilty. It was alleged by Chief Wheatley and Officer Menefee that their prisoner became unmanageable at the police station and they lodged a disorderly conduct fine and demanded that he put up a heavier forfeit for his appearance. He was fined $1.00 and costs on the latter charge.

WILL RUN SERIAL STORY OF BILLY SUNDAY

This paper has arranged for a corking good serial story, "When Billy Sunday Came to Town." Billy Sunday is a national figure. He has held revivals in the largest cities in the United States and train loads have traveled miles to hear him and see him. He deals knockout blows to sin and wickedness in all its forms, and he doesn't care a rap for any mortal that treads the soil. We are going to give our readers a chance to learn something of this great evangelist by running a serial story, dealing with his life and methods. The story was not written by Sunday, but about him The story will start in these columns this week. Be sure and get the first paper, then get every other one until the story is concluded.

Sixth Time Before Burgess

John Smith appeared before the burgess this morning for the sixth time to answer to a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was liberated with the promise that it would be the last time he would ever get off without a sentence.

Local Congress of Mothers Hold a Meeting of Interest

An enthusiastic meeting of the Monessen Circle of the National Congress of Mothers was held in Kelly's hall on Monday at 2:30 p. m. At roll call each member responded with some apt quotation. After business matters were discussed, the program for the day was taken up. An excellent paper was read by Mrs. R. S. Kelly on "The Co-operation of the Home and School." Mrs. Kelly having been a teacher herself, was in true sympathy with her subject and gave many good thoughts from personal experience as well as from the great teachers, Aristotle, Froebel and others. Mrs. John Ball not being able to be present, but showing her deep interest in the work, sent a very able paper to be read by Mrs. E. L. Hibbs on the subject "Some Things Mothers Can do for Their Children in School."

Mrs. W. A. Woods followed with a very interesting paper on "The Value of Kindergarten Training to a Mother," showing thought, effort and research in our storehouse of knowledge, parents and their problems and other books. After each paper an opportunity was given for discussion by other members of the club, to which a number responded.

These meetings are growing in interest and are of educational value to each one present, as well as of social interest. It is hoped many more mothers may join for the good of theirselves, the boy, the girl and the town.

WORLD'S CHAMPION PUGILIST IS A WHITE MAN FROM THE WEST

Jack Johnson, exile from his own country, lost his claim to fistic fame as the heavy weight champion of the world, the title being wrested from him by JessWillard, the Kansas cowboy, the biggest man who ever entered the prize ring, and a "white hope" who has at last made good.

Johnson, his wife and a little group of friends will sail Wednesday for Martinique, there to await passage back to France where Johnson proposes to settle down and lead the life of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is through with the ring.

Willard who is being acclaimed as the new champion is coming back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him when Johnson got $30,000 before the fight started, Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known.

This fight probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For 20 rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed, until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the two huge men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white or black gladiators.

So it was until the 25th round, when Willard got one of his widely swinging windmill hand smashes to Johnson's heart This was the beginning of the end. When the round closed Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and was passing the ring in the 26th when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumble on the floor of the ring where he lay partly outside the ropes while the referee held up Willard's hand in token of his newly won laurels.

NOTED POOL PLAYER TO GIVE EXHIBITION IN MONESSEN SOON

Manager Harry Lebowitz of the Olympic pool parlor, is arranging for a great star feature for Wednesday, April 14, when he will have at his parlor, Roy Palmer, the well known Ohio state champion in "Three Cushion Billiards."

Palmer is one of the country's greatest billiard players, and as well as being the Ohio champion he has demonstrated conclusively that he is also familiar with what is gnown as the "three rail" billiard game, having won in a recent tournament at Harry Davis' parlors in Pittsburgh.

In order to complete his success, Palmer had to defeat such well known players and experts as Wireback, McCourt, Gremmells, Albright and others

In this exhibition billiard enthusiasts were given the treat of their lives, and the play at the Olympic, April 14, Monesen sports will be given the same treat, for Mr. Palmer is scheduled to give demonstrations and talks on the three cushion game, making plain and simple every phase of that much talked of game.

During the evening he will also play a game or two with Manager Lebowitz who by the way, is no slouch, though not posing as an expert in a professional sense. This will prove the greatest event of the kind ever staged in Monessen, and should be witnessed by all lovers of the game.

Mr. Lebowitz will try to get Prof Palmer to remain in Monessen a few weeks to give lessons in the more difficult and practical shots in the pool field.

Mr. Lebowitz yesterday received by phone the report of the Willard-Johnson fight and had it bulletined on his large new board, each round, thus showding exceptional enterprise, as he always does in all sporting matters of unusual interest to the public.

G. F. WRIGHT'S FATHER DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Robert W. Wright died at his home in Dawson at 4 p. m., Monday of pneumonia, after only nine days' illness, aged 63 years. Deceased is survived by the wife and two children, G. F Wright, the Monessen funeral director and Miss Eva at home. The funeral will occur at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, interment in Cochran cemetery, near Dawson.

"The European War." The first and only authentic motion pictures of war as it actually is. Taken by Edwin F. Weigle for the Chicago Tribune under direction of the Belgian government conditionally upon 50 per cent. of the sale of the picture being given to the Belgian Red Cross. Every man, woman and child should know the sorrow and desolation and woe of war. These pictures show them clearly and sanely without melodramatic glamor. The greatest argument for disarmament ever advanced. What you can see in the picture:

The Burning of Antwerp.
The Battle of Malines.
The Destruction of Termonk
The Flight of Lierre.
The Battle of Alost.
The Flight of the Refugees to Holland.

Women in tears as new battle films are shown. Real pictures of real war. This picture is educational and worth seeing.

SCHOOLS' PURPOSE

When a speaker on educational topics or would-be leader in the school affairs of a city or state wishes to prove that he is essentially modern in his point of view nowadays, he usually proclaims with great unction that our schools should prepare for life. By this he means that their chief purpose should be to fit the pupil for a trade or for some other form of employment. The natural inference is that the only part of life worth while is that spent in the shop or at the desk.

It is sad to realize that life is being so persistently diminished whereas a few years ago, a workman was expected to "live" ten hours a day, now he is limited to eight, usually with Saturday afternoon also subtracted from his "life."

It seems a pity that there is so little said in response to this shallow conception of the real purpose of schools in a country where the citizen has the largest need for the power to think and for knowledge of the broader aspects of human progress and achievement.

If this notion of the school as merely an institution to help a boy learn how to gain a dollar gains a stronger influence, the inevitable result will be to set up a social demarcation in childhood which will make our boasts of equal opportunity the veriest nonsense

The man who values the intellectual development of his child will inevitably choose a private school for his education, and the tendency of recent years to look upon the public school as a place of preparation for the best colleges will be replaced by a very different situation. We shall have the public schools made into a training place for workmen and clerks, and a boy from a family who cannot afford to pay tuition will have his choice of life employment determined not by his tastes but by the limitation put on his opportunities.

The vocational school has its place, but that place should be a subordinate and not a confrolling one.

ARE THEY WORTH IT?

During the first month of 1915, while New York and other large cities were bewailing the vast hordes of unemployed then on their hands, immigrants to the number of 15,481 were admitted to the United States, according to the United States Bureau of Immigration.

While this is not in itself a very alarming total in comparison with normal imigration figures, behind it lurks what some of our imigration officials do regard as a very significant and dangerous fact . It seems that, despite the war and the European war lords' eagerness to hold back their healthy, able bodied males for use as cannon-fodder, of these 15,481 people accepted here as immigrants, 9,087 are males and only 6,394 females. In other words, almost three men for every two women secured admission.

Glancing back through the figures covering the entire war period, it seems that the same proportion of male and female immigrants has obtained. The bureau giving the statistics from July 1914 to January 1915, records 123,644 male immigrant alienz admitted, and 96,721 female alien immigrants. The bureau also makes particular reference to the fact that a very large proportion of recent immigrants is of a temporary character. Some people seem to think the unemployment problem has been intensified very considerably because of the fact that while so many thousands were clamoring for work in many parts of the country, these thousands were being added to by thousands of temporary immigrants whose only desire se seem to be to make enough money to return home whence they have come, with nest eggs got by undeciding the American workman.

Even those who are inclined to criticise very sharply union labor agitation and agitators express themselves as disturbed because of this unfair competition which they think a very serious menace to American standards of living and civilization.

PURSE SNATCHING

In the face of the fact that the daily newspapers teem with accounts of women having been robbed by purse snatchers, it would seem that the deed itself, would be suggestive of a means of prevention. There is no necessity for carrying purses and watches openly in public as women persist in doing. Recently a newspaper contained an account of an eight year old boy being a purse snatcher, with the statement that it was not its first offense and that the art had been taught him by other boys.

Surely it is a sad condition of affairs when such temptations are permitted to be flaunted in the very faces of boys of this age.

Men, driven to desperation by want, have sometimes taken advantage of the opportunities afforded by purses carried openly; therefore is it any great wonder that the undeveloped reasoning powers of an eight year old child could grasp the means so openly offered?

Laws prevent the carrying of concealed weapons, because they are a menace to the community, and yet they are little more dangerous in their entirety than purses carried openly.

In sincerity we should suggest laws compelling the carrying of concealed purses in public.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Monessen Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enought to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting to hundreds of Monessen readers.

Mrs. Ida Coleman, 311 Sixth street, Monessen, says: "I was troubled by a constant backache and in the morning especially when I stooped to put on my shoes, I found it hard to straighten. Sharp pains took my breath away. I felt tired all the time and had dizzy spells and hot flashes. My head ached. I doctored for a long time, but I didn't get much good and finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Kirk's Drug store. They gave me great relief and after I had taken the second box, the trouble disappeared. I haven't had any cause for complaint since. Others of the family are now using Doan's Kidney Pills and consider them the best kidney medicine on the market

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coleman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Principles of Knights of Malta

[Principals of the Knights of Malta, published by request.]

The Order of Knights of Malta is a body of men banded together under most binding forms to comfort one another in the practice of the Christian religion; to offer mutual assistance in time of need; to promote Protestant unity, and to defend the Protestant faith against all foes whatsoever. The Order is not a fraternity of recent birth, but is the legitimate descendant of the illustrious, religious and military order of the Middle Ages, heir to its greatness, and fully endowed with all its ancient rites and ceremonies. Cradled in the Holy Land amid the scenes of our Savior's life and passion, it arrived at the dignity of manhood during the period of the Reformation, when rejoicing in man's state, it zealously embraced the pure doctrines of the reformers, and under the leadership of Sir James Sandilands, the first Protestant Grand Commander, assisted John Knox in his holy work in Scotland. Since that time the Order has been the faithful ally of the Protestant church.

The Order of Malta is the staunch defender of civil and religious liberty. Whilst opposing all forms of error and superstition, it nevertheless teaches and exercises the fullest toleration and charity toward all men, being incapable, from the nature of its constitution or of the religion in whose interest it has been perpetuated, by oppressing any man or body of men on account of their religious or political belief.

The Order of Malta is neither a national, political nor sectarian association. Instituted in the Holy Land, A. D., 1048, at a period when none of the states of Europe had attained their modern proportions nad power, and before the Continent of America had been heard of, it is the property of no nation, the possessor of no national traditions. Having no connection whatever with politics in any form, nor with any particular church organization, it demands, as the sole qualification for membership, purity of morals, zeal for the Protestant cause, faith in the Holy Scriptures as the infallible rule of faith and life, belief in the Holy Trinity as expressed in the Apostles' Creed, and reliance upon Christ as the only mediator. Its ramifications extend over the four quarters of the globe, and in every quarter is the society governed by the same grand and Christian principles, and under the same ancient and knightly constitution. In short, it is a universal Protestant fraternity; the true evangelical alliance for the propagation of the faith.

In association with the religious principles and aspirations of the fraternity is a chivalric spirit, which is the concommitant of the knightly character of the institution. The Order of Malta being one of the few military orders of the Middle Ages which have survived the revolution in society, it possesses the spirit as well as the forms of Christian knighthood, and is thus decidedly elevating and eminently Chritian.

This ancient and honorable fraternity calls, therefore, upon all Protestants, by whatever name known, who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity and in truth, to enlist under its banner and to take their part in the religious regeneration of the world. With Protestantism aroused and faith kindled, our religion would sweep the nations, to the utter destruction of every form of error and superstition. May the Lord hasten the day and grant the speedy coming of His Kingdom.

This illustrious Order possesses features somewhat different from most others.

First—The Order is ancient.

Second—It is fraternal. The obligations of the Order bind to secrecy and mutual protection.

Third—It is military.

Fourth—It is a religious order.

Fifth—It is beneficial or non-beneficial as Sub-ordinate Commanderies may determine.

Sixth—It is the only legal body of Knights of Malta working on the Continent of America.

Thus, as may easily be seen, it offers inducements which no other Order, ancient or modern, pretends to (for the young men of this continent especially) combining as it does so many good qualities. Being a military order, the drill is a prominent feature, though it is not compulsory on members to enter the drill company or to produce the uniform, that being optional on their part.

This Order has no affiliation in any way with any other Order. It is the lineal descendenat of the Scottish branch of the Sixth Language of the Ancient, High and Exalted Order of Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, afterwards of Palestine, Rhodes and Malta.

HEADACHE

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D. LL. D., Commissioner of Health

Headache is one of the most common ailments. Almost everyone even people in comparativeiy good health, are subject from time to time to this malady. Because it manifests itself in more or less the same form and general locality, the majority of people are wont to believe that the source of the difficulty is located in the cranium itself. This is rarely the case.

The causes of headache are numerous and cannot be removed by the use of smelling salts. ice bags, cold towels and headache powders. Headache may come from defective teeth or eyes, from acute digestive disturbances, from a sluggish action of the liver and intestinal canal, long continued irritation of the nasal cavities, high blood pressure or other causes as widely varied as those mentioned.

Constantly recurring headaches may also be manifestations of profound systematic disturbances of some part of the body which demands medical attention. The cause, more serious than the headache itself, should be found and cured. Often the immediate cause of headache is the over stimulation of the heart.

Undue heart stimulation accompanies a number of organic disturbances and results in abnormally high blood pressure in the brain; the majority of the headache remedies which are offered for sale contain some powerful heart depressant which brings temporary relief.

There is always danger, however, in the use by a layman of any drug which is sufficiently strong to have this result when there is some weakness of the heart. These headache cures which are indiscriminately offered do not correct the real cause of the disturbance.

Serious or even fatal results may come from constant use and they cannot effect a cure. Anyone subject to recurring headaches should consult a physician that the cause may be determined before any treatment is given.

New Step by Health Dept.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 3—The State Department of Health Labatory will hereafter make the Waserman test for the physicians of the Commonwealth, according to the anonuncement made today by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health.

This test makes it possible to determine whether human beings are suffering from the most dreaded of systemic of blood diseases, syphilis. Special containers have been prepared for the collection of the blood specimen necessary and these will be furnished physicians without charge upon application.

It is expected that this addition to the Labatory service which is offered free by the Department of Health, will prove a great boon to hundreds of physicians who have doubtful cases under treatment.

COMPENSATION FOR COAL MINERS

Operators Blocked in Attempt to Dodge Law.

SNARL OVER BILL IN SENATE

Fight in Upper Branch Attracts Attention of Governor and Attorney General to Necessity of Extending Act to Anthracite Toilers.

Harrisburg, April 6.—As a result of a snarl in the senate last week over the efforts of Senators Catlin and McNichol to force out of the mines and mining committee a bill introduced by the former, at the instance of the United Mine Workers of America, Governor Brumbaugh discovered that the workmen's compensation bill as originally drawn would not apply to 150,000 anthracite miners. He and Attorney General Brown, upon looking into the question, agreed at once with the hard coal miners regarding the necessity of either passing the Catlin bill or incorporating its salient features into the liability and compensation acts.

"It would be a fine state of affairs," said the attorney general, "for Pennsylvania to pass a compensation law for all workers save the men who struggle under ground. We will see that they are taken care of as they should be."

The fight led by Catlin and McNichol furnished one of the most spectacular incidents of the session. It began by Catlin putting in a bill similar to the one he already had presented, but which was held in the mines and mining committee. Lieutenant Governor McClain sent the new Catlin bill to the election committee presided over by McNichol, and the latter lost no time in reporting it out.

SENATOR WILLIAM C. SPROUL,
Member of Upper Branch For Sixteen Years.

This action stirred up the wrath of Thompson, who moved that the new Catlin bill be sent to his committee. McNichol opposed this by moving to adjourn, but when a vote was taken on the question it was found that only twenty-four senators, less than a quorum, were present. For the first time in twenty years the presiding officer ordered a call of the senate, and the sergeant-at-arms, accompanied by his mace, went forth to round up absent senators. He succeeded in getting together seven, whereupon the senate reconvened and the battle was resumed. McNichol renewed his adjournment motion and a vote was taken, resulting in fifteen for adjournment and sixteen against. As this was the test on sending the Catlin bill to the mines and mining committee, Thompson won a temporary victory and the new measure was ordered into the hands of the Beaver senator.

But the flurry stirred up sufficient attention to accomplish what Catlin was after—a recognition of the hard coal miners in the matter of compensation. The governor and his attorney general began to look into the merits of the measure, and they found that unless it is passed no compensation law would relieve anthracite workers. It seems that by the act of 1911 all mine foremen are certificated by the state, and now when an accident happens in the anthracite region the operators raise the defense that they are not responsible, but rather the foremen who are certificated by the state and virtually agents of the commonwealth; that in selecting foremen they are limited to a select class and have no general choice.

The Catlin bill extends the choice of foremen to all men competent, without regard to certificates. This would place the responsibility for accidents directly upon the companies—a responsibility that the rich coal barons do not want to assume under the circumstances. They had high hopes of not coming under the law, and the action of Catlin in forcing matters was the hardest blow they ever sustained since the Pennsylvania legislature began to protect their interests some twenty years ago.

Amendments were inserted in the compensation bill when it came up for second reading yesterday. These changes pertain to common law defenses, and now any possibility of an employer being excluded from the operation of the act by reason of such defense is eliminated.

LOCAL OPTION VOTE NEXT WEEK

Test on Big Issue in Lower Branch of Legislature.

BOTH SIDES ARE CONFIDENT

Governor Says Bill Will Pass, While Opponents Are Just as Sure That Measure Will Not Receive Necessary Number of Votes.

Harrisburg, April 6.—The vote on local option will take place in the house next week, and with both sides confident of victory it is believed the battle will be one of the most stirring ever waged in the Pennsylvania legislature. The speakers for the "drys" and "wets" are getting their material in shape, and the prospects are that several hours' speechmaking will precede the balloting.

Today's demonstration brought to Harrisburg thousands of local option advocates. A big rally was held in the Chestnut street auditorium, which lasted all day, with the exception of a few hours recess in the afternoon for the public hearing before the law and order committee.

Governor Brumbaugh says the bill will pass the house, the opponents say it will not receive more than eighty votes, or twenty-four less than a constitutional majority. More people appear to be "in the clouds" concerning the outcome of this struggle than has been the case in any of the previous fights for local option. This is due in part to a non-Committal attitude of a number of representatives who declare that they do not know what they will do when the vote is finally taken.

The uncertainty hovering about the local option bill may also be traced to the newspaper reports enamating from here. There is a tendency on the part of newspapers friendly to local option to say it will pass, while those against local option are just as insistent that it will be badly defeated. The following dispatch to the Philadelphia Bulletin, however, seems to size up the exact situation from an unprejudiced standpoint:

"Governor Brumbaugh has seemingly not abated his efforts to gain converts in the house for local option, but the 'wets' declare he has had indifferent success, and add that they were never more confident than at this time that he cannot command more than eighty votes, or twenty-four short of the constitutional majority of 104, the house membership being 207.

"As recently as yesterday, according to the 'wets,' Governor Brumbaugh met with refusals from representatives who had been invited to call at the executive office. While declining to allow the use of their names, out of deference to the governor, local option members who are known to have worked to get votes for the Williams measure concede they have given up hope that the necessary 104 votes can be gotten.

"The claim has been made that the governor can now count upon from ninety to ninety-seven votes in the house, but the estimates are not taken seriously by those who have heretofore been able to forecast with approximate accuracy the vote of the house on important measures."

TO BEGIN WORK ON STATE ROADS

Bigelow Resignation Followed by Order From Governor.

11,000 MILES MUST BE KEPT

Statement Made In the House by Chairman of Roads Committee That $10,000,000 Is Necessary to Take Care of Road Improvements.

Harrisburg, April 7.—Following the resignation of Edward M. Bigelow, chief of the state highway department, Governor Brumbaugh notified Joseph E. Hunter, first assistant highway commissioner, to immediately begin work on the state roads. This week the huge job of looking after the 11,000 miles of state highways will be started in the hope that every day of the spring season will be taken up in the important maintenance task.

Robert J. Cunningham, of Pittsburgh, will succeed Mr. Bigelow, whose resignation or removal had from the beginning of the Brumbaugh administration been regarded as among the political certainties.

During the campaign of last fall Governor Brumbaugh severely criticised the state's road building policy and many times asserted that he would, if elected, reorganize the highway department.

While the governor did not at any time declare that he would dispense with Bigelow's services, the position which he took as regards the good roads question was such that Bigelow's retirement at an even earlier date than this was expected.

Mr. Cunningham is not an engineer, but it is said that that would not weigh against him with the governor, who is looking for a man of executive ability as head of the department.

According to Representative E. E. Jones, chairman of the house committee on public roads, the state must add $10,000,000 to its revenues if it wants to take care of the roads while looking after the charities and advancing education. On the floor of the house the other day Mr. Jones said, among other things:

"The vital thing in this whole road problem in Pennsylvania today is the matter of finance, of funds with which to build roads. We cannot build roads out of papers or newspapers or wind: it takes cash.

"We know what is necessary in the way of a road appropriation. We should have at least $15,000,000, besides $[illegible] for schools," said Mr. Jones. "In addition to the financial support for all the expenses of government, there should be revenue bills passed to provide at least $10,000,000 additional revenue in order to take care of the roads and schools and the various institutions of the state."

Local Option's Inning At Harrisburg Today

Local option came up at Harrisburg with a demonstration today in favor of Governor Brumbaugh's local option bill. The governor himself is back of the movement. Last night he made public the names of men from all parts of the state who will speak in favor of the bill. Delegations are expected today at the capital from all parts of the state, including Westmoreland county.

According to dispatches from Harrisburg assurances of support have poured in by every mail. The governor has also received letters of congratulation from distant states.

The general plan was for a meeting in the morning in the Chestnut street auditorium, outdoor meetings if necesasry, a noon meeting, a march on the capitol to attend the hearing by the law and order committee, and an overflow meeting in the Capitol park and a big meeting in Chestnut street auritorium.

The speakers are to be Governor Brumbaugh, Alba B. Johnson, Philadelphia; Congressman S. H. Miller, Mercer; William McCoach. city treasurer, Philadelphia; W. W. Follansbee, Pittsburgh; the Rev. J. J. Curan, Wilkesbarre; former Congresman Andrew R. Brodeck, Hanover; the Rev. Dr. George Sheldon, Second Presbyteroan church, Pittsburgh; former Congresman Henry Temple, Washington, Pa.; John A. McSparran, mastre of Pennsylvania State Grange Fnurniss; J Denny O'Neil, county commissioner, Pittsburgh; E. Z. Wallower, Harrisburg; former Congressman Fred E. Lewis, Allentown; W. G. Landes, general secretary of State Sabbath school association, Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. J. K. McClurkin, Pitsburgh; David E. Small, York; Dr. Isaac C. Sharpless, persident of Haverford College, Haverford; former Congressman M. Clyde Kelly, Braddock; William H. Spence, former district atorney, Williamsport; the Rev. Floyd W. Tompkins, Holy Trinity church, Philadelphia; former Congressman Frank L. Derchem, Lewisburg; Edwin P. Young, Towando, and former Congressman Charles E. Patton, Curwensville.

No More Running Sores

Craig's Drug Store Sells an Ointment Called San Cura That is a Positive Relief

It matters not how old, persistent or poisonous the sore is, San Cura Ointment, the powerful antiseptic, will draw out the poison and promptly heal the sore.

So sure of this are the owners, the Thompson Medical company that they have authorized Craig's Drug store to return the price if San Cura Ointment doesn't do all this paper says it will do. No fairer offer was ever made.

B. D. Dutton, Titusville, Pa., says: "My arm was covered with twenty-four running sores and swollen to twice its natural size. San Cura Ointment relieved the pain, drew out the poison and healed the arm in an incredibly short time. It is the greatest compound for healing I ever used."

The healing powers of San Cura Ointment are little short of marvelous. It gives relief and is guaranteed to help salt rheum, eczema, bleeding, itching or protruding piles, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, chapped hands and chilblains In cuts, burns, scalds and bruises, it allays pain and is healing. 25c and 50c a jar.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT

A proprietary medicine, like everything else that comes before the public, has to prove its merits. The law of the survival of the fittest applies in this field as in others. The reason for the tremendous success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is because it has been fulfilling a real human need for forty years, so that today thousands of American women owe their health and happiness to the marvelous power of this famous medicine, made from roots and herbs —nature's remedy for woman's ills.

"CABIRIA"

Manager Tom B. Cowan is very much enthused over his great 12 reel picture coming to the Star theatre tomorrow, "Cabiria," which is pronounced by competent cortiques to be the greatest and most elaborately wonderful picture ever produced.

It abounds in endless thrills and sensations, and is built along the broadest, deepest and most gorgeous lines, the costumes being rich and expensive and the scenic effects grand. It cost $250,000 to produce "Cabiria," and there has never been an attempt along the same line in the moving picture world

Mr. Cowan announces that he will start "Cabiria" tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and it will be run continuously until 12 at night. The admission price will be balcony 15c, parquet 25c. Children under 12 years 15c.

This picture wherever shown has packed the houses. At Charleroi, Monongahela, McKeesport. Washington and Pittsburgh the people went wild over it, and the crowds could not be handled at many times.

It being a twelve reel picture, Manager Joe Mercer of the Globe at Washington, conceived the idea of dividing it into two parts, giving five minutes intermission during which the house was flooded with light so as to rest the people's eyes.

It is not known whether Mr. Cowan will do this or not, but all can be assured that he will do everything in his power for his patrons' comfort. So don't miss seeing "Caberia" Wednesday.
